Lucena City, Quezon Province, Philippines — open to remote work

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

IT graduate working toward a career as a junior data analyst, turning a year of hands-on operational data — customer cases, CRM logs, after-sales records — into dashboards and reports people can act on. Comfortable with Excel, SQL, and explaining what the numbers mean to people who weren't staring at them all day. Currently logs every customer case through ZOHO CRM and coordinates after-sales workflows with suppliers, and has started applying that firsthand operational knowledge directly to self-built Excel dashboards and process maps. Looking for a remote Junior Data Analyst, Reporting, or Business Intelligence role to build on that foundation.

PROJECTS

Personal Expense Dashboard — Self-updating Excel dashboard analyzing income and spending in pesos. Structured data tables, cross-sheet formulas (SUMIFS, INDEX/MATCH, EOMONTH), conditional formatting, and charts that automatically report the 3 most recent months. Strongest proof point for analytical Excel work.

After-Sales Case Escalation Workflow — Mapped the end-to-end case process used daily at Abenson Ventures: customer intake, CRM logging, supplier coordination, and replacement escalation, applying process analysis to a real operational workflow.

FitQuest — Gamified fitness tracker with XP, levels, and streaks for completing daily "quests." Runs on a Python/Flask backend with a PostgreSQL database behind real user accounts, so progress is saved server-side.
